Notice to Employee

Refund. Even if you do not file a tax return, you should file a refund if a box shows federal income tax withheld if you can take the amount of each refund.

Earnings income credit (EIC). You may be able to take the EIC if you do not have a qualifying child, you have earned less than $12,210 ($13,650 if married filing jointly), you have no qualifying child and you earned less than $5,500 ($11,050 if married filing jointly). You must file a tax return to receive the refund.

A – Unearned social security or RRTA on tips. Include this box on Form 1040. See “Total Tax” in the Form 1040 instructions.
B – Excludable moving expense reimbursements (non liable).
C – Excludable moving expense reimbursements (liable).
D – Income under section 409A on a nonqualified deferred compensation plan.
E – Nontaxable combat pay. See the instructions for Form 1040 or Form 1040A. F – Excludable interest (not included in box C). G – Excludable interest on a nonqualified deferred compensation plan.

Notice to Employee

Refund. Even if you do not file a tax return, you should file a refund if a box shows federal income tax withheld if you can take the amount of the refund.

Earnings income credit (EIC). You may be able to take the EIC if you do not have a qualifying child, you have earned less than $12,210 ($13,650 if married filing jointly), you have no qualifying child and you earned less than $5,500 ($11,050 if married filing jointly). You must file a tax return to receive the refund.

A – Unearned social security or RRTA on tips. Include this box on Form 1040. See “Total Tax” in the Form 1040 instructions.
B – Excludable moving expense reimbursements (non liable).
C – Excludable moving expense reimbursements (liable).
D – Income under section 409A on a nonqualified deferred compensation plan.
E – Nontaxable combat pay. See the instructions for Form 1040 or Form 1040A. F – Excludable interest (not included in box C). G – Excludable interest on a nonqualified deferred compensation plan.

Notice to Employee

Refund. Even if you do not file a tax return, you should file a refund if a box shows federal income tax withheld if you can take the amount of the refund.

Earnings income credit (EIC). You may be able to take the EIC if you do not have a qualifying child, you have earned less than $12,210 ($13,650 if married filing jointly), you have no qualifying child and you earned less than $5,500 ($11,050 if married filing jointly). You must file a tax return to receive the refund.

A – Unearned social security or RRTA on tips. Include this box on Form 1040. See “Total Tax” in the Form 1040 instructions.
B – Excludable moving expense reimbursements (non liable).
C – Excludable moving expense reimbursements (liable).
D – Income under section 409A on a nonqualified deferred compensation plan.
E – Nontaxable combat pay. See the instructions for Form 1040 or Form 1040A. F – Excludable interest (not included in box C). G – Excludable interest on a nonqualified deferred compensation plan.

Notice to Employee

Refund. Even if you do not file a tax return, you should file a refund if a box shows federal income tax withheld if you can take the amount of the refund.

Earnings income credit (EIC). You may be able to take the EIC if you do not have a qualifying child, you have earned less than $12,210 ($13,650 if married filing jointly), you have no qualifying child and you earned less than $5,500 ($11,050 if married filing jointly). You must file a tax return to receive the refund.

A – Unearned social security or RRTA on tips. Include this box on Form 1040. See “Total Tax” in the Form 1040 instructions.
B – Excludable moving expense reimbursements (non liable).
C – Excludable moving expense reimbursements (liable).
D – Income under section 409A on a nonqualified deferred compensation plan.
E – Nontaxable combat pay. See the instructions for Form 1040 or Form 1040A. F – Excludable interest (not included in box C). G – Excludable interest on a nonqualified deferred compensation plan.

Notice to Employee

Refund. Even if you do not file a tax return, you should file a refund if a box shows federal income tax withheld if you can take the amount of the refund.

Earnings income credit (EIC). You may be able to take the EIC if you do not have a qualifying child, you have earned less than $12,210 ($13,650 if married filing jointly), you have no qualifying child and you earned less than $5,500 ($11,050 if married filing jointly). You must file a tax return to receive the refund.

A – Unearned social security or RRTA on tips. Include this box on Form 1040. See “Total Tax” in the Form 1040 instructions.
B – Excludable moving expense reimbursements (non liable).
C – Excludable moving expense reimbursements (liable).
D – Income under section 409A on a nonqualified deferred compensation plan.
E – Nontaxable combat pay. See the instructions for Form 1040 or Form 1040A. F – Excludable interest (not included in box C). G – Excludable interest on a nonqualified deferred compensation plan.